Dear Revere Families,

In the spirit of renewing our ongoing educational commitment to excellence, the administration and staff at Paul Revere seeks to engage, support, empower and motivate every single one of our students. In keeping with this desire, teachers seek to actively engage students by requesting parent authorization for their children to turn on their cameras during class instruction. Although we cannot require students to turn on their cameras, student learning and engagement has been shown to suffer drastically when students are not fully present during eLearning.

Therefore, we strongly encourage parents to set this expectation with their children. As a parent, if you choose and/or expect your child to have their camera turned on during class instruction, please let their teachers know by completing the form below. By doing so, the teachers will be able to communicate your expectation to your child during class.

Let's make this semester one that resonates and counts.

Respectfully,

Tom Iannucci
