The LAUSD School Board will be voting on the 2015-2016 instructional calendar on Tuesday, March 10 @ 1 pm (see agenda).

History: The School Board adopted an "early start" calendar in 2012, moving the first day of school from after Labor Day to early August. A primary reason for the change was to complete the Fall semester before Winter Break. It is a disadvantage for high school students to have to sit for final exams in January after Winter Break. Many parents have petitioned to move the start date to the week of August 17 or 24.

Your Actions:

The current draft calendar, found here, lists August 18 as the first day of instruction. The School Board instead may vote for an August 11 start date, in line with the past 3 years.

Attend LAUSD's Board Meeting on Tuesday, March 10 @ 10am to share your opinion during public comments:

- 333 South Beaudry Avenue, Board Room, Los Angeles, CA 90017
- Arrive by 9:45 am
- Keep your comment to less than 3 minutes

The public comment period will be at the beginning of the meeting, per the agenda found here.
